

Dehesa Montenmedio

As for the Dehesa Montenmendio course, it was designed by Alejandro Maldonado and only opened in 1996. It is of the highest quality and an absolute delight to play. It is always in immaculate condition with tailored fairways and superb greens that are considered some of the best in Andalucia. Dehesa was designed with the club golfer in mind and features wide fairways, water hazards, lots of bunkers and fast greens. It is a good test for all standards and even more challenging if the wind picks up. Make sure you check the yardage to the green by the small cypress trees at 100 and 150 metres. The design offers a good mixture of holes at various lengths and difficulty. All in all it is a very enjoyable test of golf on one of the finest golf resorts in Europe. Play it once and you will certainly want to play it again.

On arrival the entrance through the remote controlled security gates and the drive through the woods to the parking area will impress you. The staff to carry your clubs to the changing facilities and clubhouse will meet you. You are only allowed to wear soft spikes and the staff will fit these for you. The clubhouse is quite magnificent with superb changing facilities, bar and restaurant with large terraced area to enjoy that welcoming drink whilst soaking up the countryside. There is a well-stocked pro shop, putting green and a very large practice area that houses its own golf academy. If you need lessons you can get them either individually or in a group session. It is a course that can be easily walked but take advantage of the buggies available to ensure you can leisurely gaze at the breathtaking views. Wherever you go you will find the staff extremely helpful.

You will enjoy superb a days golf at Dehesa and please ensure you book through Med Golf to guarantee your tee time. It is highly recommended by us and why not make it a day out with the family? The whole complex will leave a lasting impression on you.
